

OSHA Requests Nominations for Membership on Advisory Committee on Construction Safety and Health

The Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) is accepting nominations for six new members to serve on the Advisory Committee on Construction Safety and Health (ACCSH). Nominations will be accepted from those interested in representing employees (2), employers (2), the public (1) and state safety and health agency (1) groups.

Nominations may be submitted at www.regulations.gov, the Federal eRulemaking Portal. Submissions may also be sent by mail or facsimile. See the Federal Register notice for details. The deadline for submissions is January 7, 2014.

ACCSH, established under the Contract Work Hours and Safety Standards Act and the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970, advises the secretary of labor and assistant secretary of labor for occupational safety and health on construction standards and policy matters.

Additionally, the Advisory Committee on Construction Safety and Health will meet December 5-6, 2013, in Washington, D.C. in Room C-5515, 1A-B, U.S. Department of Labor, 200 Constitution Ave., N.W., Washington, DC 20210. The meeting, to be held from 1 to 4 p.m. ET, will focus on these agenda items:

- remarks from Jordan Barab, deputy assistant secretary of labor for occupational safety and health
- updates from the Directorates of Construction and Standards and Guidance
- a presentation on the draft proposed standard on occupational exposure to beryllium
- a discussion on the OSHA 10- and 30-hour training courses.

Some committee members will participate by teleconference. The meeting is open to the public.
