

New Rental Management Software Available from Dynamics Software

New rental management software introduced by Dynamics Software works with Microsoft Dynamics AX 2012 to improve equipment tracking. Dynamics Software, based in the Netherlands is a Microsoft ISV (independent software vendor).

Called the Rental Management Solution, the software provides companies in the rental sector with all current operational information in real time. The software handles administration, registration and management while also tracking potential sales activities, orders and contracts.

A single central database contains all information about clients, equipment, services, staff, contracts, and partners, making it easier to maintain and find relevant information.

Companies operating internationally will appreciate the suite of multi-language and multi-currency financial and operations management applications, which can also generate reports and business summaries, providing accurate and up-to-date information.

Dynamics Software managing director, Eric Veldkamp comments, "We are very proud to launch the Dynamics Software Rental Management Solution. It opens up a new business area for Dynamics Software. Further, it gives us the opportunity to add value to our customers who already provide services and have the need for a rental solution as well. We foresee tremendous market potential and growth in the rental arena."
